9. How important are reproductive health rights to you personally, and why?

Reproductive health rights are personal. I was a young teen when Roe v Wade was decided. My very Catholic mother took the time to explain to my sisters and myself how this access to reproductive decisions allowed us to be in charge of our own life in a way that no women before us had. She had already taught us that being able to take care of ourselves would give us control of our destiny and that reproductive choice was the final piece of making that in our control.
